

Principal Corner for September 21
First Day Writing

Our first day of school tradition is for every student to write a letter and/or draw a picture for me. Teachers and I read all of the letters by grade level, analyzing the structure and content of each.

Our 7th/8th graders wrote about themselves, their summer and their goals for the year. The following excerpts are from their writing.

This summer we got assigned to read one of the best books ever. It is called A Long Walk to Water. I LOVE this book because it talks and enlightens you about the things going on in Sudan.

Lily, 8th

This year I am going to try to work to my full potential and get all of my homework done, with really good grades.

Jesus, 8th

My goal this year is to be a faithful, caring and loving leader.

Emma, 8th

My goals this year are to have confidence, work out and do random acts of kindness.

Joey, 8th

My goals for the school year are to have straight A's, to write essays better and to learn more about how to write them.

Makenna, 8th

I'm so happy to be back at school. I love it at SCCS. I can't wait for tomorrow. Every day I go to sleep with joy that in the morning, I'll be going to school! I love it.

Jenny, 7th

With joy,
Susan Kilbane
